

2010 Tribal Veterans Ceremony

It is well recognized that historically Native Americans have the highest record of service per capita when compared to other ethnic groups. At this time there are nearly 190,000 Native American military veterans in the United States. This Nebraska event serves to honor those veterans for their long history of proud service to their country and to their tribes.

Keynote speaker Charles "Chuck" Trimble will present an educational talk about the history of the Native Warrior Societies, and the Nebraska Department of Veterans Affairs will present information about the contributions and influence of Native Americans in the United States military. A special presentation will also be made to World War II veterans at the ceremony.
